FERDOSI MEDIA AB

Connecting Cultures Through Books Since 1984

ABOUT FERDOSI MEDIA AB

Founded in Stockholm in 1984, Ferdosi Media AB began as a specialist Persian bookshop and has developed into a long-established international supplier of multilingual books and professional library services. For more than four decades, Ferdosi has worked closely with public libraries, university and research libraries, embassies, schools and cultural institutions.

Our strength lies in combining deep regional and language expertise with reliable global sourcing, structured workflows and long-term institutional continuity. Ferdosi Media AB operates both a physical bookshop in Stockholm and international B2B services for libraries with complex multilingual and diaspora collection needs.

Languages & Collections

Ferdosi Media AB works with more than 50 languages, including Arabic, Persian, Turkish, Kurdish, Somali, Hindi, Urdu, Bengali, Nordic languages, English, French, Italian, Spanish and German. Our collections support both academic research and public library services, serving global and diaspora communities.

We source titles directly from publishers, distributors and specialist suppliers worldwide, with a strong focus on the Middle East, Asia, Africa and Europe. Libraries can order curated selections, standing orders, and special requests with dependable fulfilment and documentation.
